DEPARTMENT OF PRODUCTION ENGINEERING

REPORT ON THE EVENT “ NEOPHYTES’24 ”

Dt: 21/09/24

The Department of Production Engineering is proud to present "Neophytes 24'", a welcome event exclusively for the first-year students. Organized by the Production Engineering Association (PEA) and the Society of Manufacturing Engineers - Students' Chapter, the event aims to provide a warm and interactive platform for freshers to immerse themselves in the campus culture. It will take place at Venue J-314 and will include a series of team-building and fun activities designed to encourage interaction and foster a sense of belonging among the new students.

In the morning session, participants will enjoy interactive ice-breaker games such as "Head, Toe, Knee" and "Chinese Whisper," allowing them to build connections in a fun and lighthearted environment. The afternoon session will feature an exciting "IPL Auction" style event, where students will collaborate in teams, using strategy and teamwork to compete in a mock auction. This comprehensive welcome event promises to create lasting memories while helping first-year students transition smoothly into their academic journey
